

Infection Control/Safety Post-Test

Name: _____

Date: _____

Social Security Number: _____

- | | | |
|---|---|---|
| 1. Gloves are an acceptable substitute for hand hygiene. | T | F |
| 2. Healthcare workers who have contact with blood and body fluids should be immunized against Hepatitis B. | T | F |
| 3. A person sustaining an exposure to blood or body fluids (e.g. needlestick, splash to the eyes) does not need to report the incident to Occupational Health Services and be evaluated within 2 hours of the exposure. Any time within 5 days of the exposure is acceptable. | T | F |
| 4. The Infection Control Manual is located on the clinical workstation (hospital computer system). | T | F |
| 5. Hand hygiene is the most effective measure for preventing and controlling the spread of organisms. | T | F |
| 6. Notification of the local health department is not necessary prior to discharging a patient with pulmonary TB. | T | F |
| 7. It is okay to leave the door open to the rooms of patients who are on Airborne Precautions for known or suspected TB. | T | F |
| 8. "Order Number One" heard over the Yale-New Haven Hospital overhead paging system, refers to a hazardous condition, such as a fire, major chemical spill, or radiation accident. It may also indicate a fire drill. | T | F |
| 9. If a patient has exhibited violent behavior and may pose a threat to staff, you should call the Yale-New Haven Hospital Police Department at 8-2500. | T | F |
| 10. Items contaminated with blood, but not visibly dripping blood must be disposed of in a biohazard container. | T | F |
| 11. Material Safety Data Sheets (MSDS) provide information on the physical properties and health hazards of chemicals in use at Yale-New Haven Hospital. MSDS can be accessed from the Clinical Workstations. | T | F |
| 12. The acronym (PASS) when using a fire extinguisher stands for "pull, aim, squeeze, sweep". | T | F |
| 13. Long (more than ¼ inch) natural nails and artificial nails are acceptable for healthcare workers with direct patient contact to wear as they have not been linked to the transmission of organisms and infections to patients. | T | F |

Return this test with your credentialing materials. A score of >75% is required to pass.