“Careers in Healthcare”
A virtual webinar series hosted by Volunteer Services at Yale New Haven Health

4 - 5 pm
March 23
Zoom link available at www.ynhh.org/about/community/volunteers

The webinar features panelists who are in various clinical roles throughout Yale New Haven Health System. They will discuss the personal and academic challenges they have faced in pursuing their professional objectives at each of the hospitals.

George Agyapong, MD

Marissa Fama

Carrie Kenyon, RN

Luz Olavarria

Danielle Petrowski, RN

Panelists

George Agyapong, MD, is an internal medicine resident at Yale New Haven Hospital. A native of Ghana and a former U.S. Army Reserve Combat Medic, Dr. Agyapong holds degrees in pharmacy, applied biotechnology and medicine.

Marissa Fama is an andrologist at Greenwich Hospital. She began her career path as a Junior Volunteer in the Emergency Department. After graduation from college, she began working in laboratory services processing COVID-19 tests. She recently transferred to the Department of In Vitro Fertilization where she works on treatment services for men with reproductive health issues.

Carrie Kenyon, RN, is executive director of Patient Care Services at Westerly Hospital. Over the course of her nursing career, she has worked various roles in the Intensive Care Unit as well as Patient Care Services.

Luz Olavarria is a certified pharmacy technician at Bridgeport Hospital. In her role, she has experienced various aspects of the pharmacy setting, including pharmacy benefits management, retail pharmacy, hospital pharmacy, hospital medication history and ambulatory medication history.

Danielle Petrowski, RN, is a nurse in the outpatient infusion center at Lawrence + Memorial Hospital. She is currently enrolled in graduate school to become a Family Nurse Practitioner.