Do You Want to Become a Critical Care Transport Provider?

Yale New Haven Center for EMS Critical Care Transport Course

This hybrid course will prepare experienced paramedics and nurses for the FP-C, CFRN, CCP-C, and CTRN exams. But this is much more than test prep - this is the region's most comprehensive introduction to critical care transport and air medical operations. Over three months, you will learn from physicians, critical care transport nurses, flight paramedics and others with extensive real-world experience. Immersive weekly classes include dynamic lectures and discussions, high-fidelity simulation, and hands-on skills. Plus clinical rotation opportunities with SkyHealth 2, Yale New Haven Hospital and our pediatric critical care transport team.
